Notes:

---

When George and Susan married on 24 Aug 1878, the certificate shows George's address as Norbiton, Surrey and Susan's as Kingston, Surrey, but their first child, Jonathan Herbert, was born either in Kingston Bagpuize or Longworth in 1879 and their second child, George William, was born in Kingston Bagpuize in 1880. Later children were born in Surrey.

This suggests that George moved to Surrey sometime between the 1871 census and his marriage, perhaps looking for work. At the time of Jonathan Herbert's birth, George's parents, Jonathan and Elizabeth, were living in Kingston Bagpuize, but Jonathan died 12 days later. After Jonathan's death, Elizabeth may have moved to Longworth to live with her daughter, because she was certainly there by the 1881 census. We cannot tell from the information we have where George and Susan first set up home after their marriage. They may have set up home in Surrey and gone back to Kingston Bagpuize or Longworth for the births, or they may have set up home in Kingston Bagpuize and then moved permanently to Surrey between George William's birth and the 1881 census.

Marriage Notes: From marriage certificate

Place - Primitive Methodist Chapel, Kingston, Surrey
Occupations:
George - Painter
Susan - Servant
Addresses:
George - Elton Road, Norbiton (Road still exists)
Susan - Market Place, Kingston
Fathers:
George - Jonathan, Labourer
Susan - James, Labourer
Witnesses:
James Cooper (This could have been Susan's father or brother)
Phoebe Martin (Perhaps a friend of Susan)
George's mother and father were about 67 and 70 years old respectively and still living in Kingston Bagpuize, so they may well not have been at the wedding.
